

Why be anywhere else?

A Foggy Australia
Day Afternoon

Good Neighbours II

A blackout becomes a community event

On Saturday night (Feb 5) a very hot week ended with a gratifying cool change. Around 9pm Wingello and Penrose experienced a blackout which - as always - the children found exciting.

Thinking about the retained heat in the shop and the freezers with all our ice creams, I drove to the shop with Eric and we opened all the doors to let that lovely cool breeze flowing through the front door to the back of the store.

The temperature dropped 2 degrees in about 45 minutes but the important part to this story is what happened while we were waiting for Nature to do her work.

As it was a refreshing change in the weather and most homes remained quite warm, many villagers were outside on their verandahs or going for walks.

You could see the flashes of torches in all sorts of places and there was a great lightning show being put on for our benefit in the clouds.

Noticing a couple of flashes in and around the shop many people flashed lights our way, making sure "everything was OK".

One neighbour even rushed over with his car to make sure no-one was doing anything "silly" at the shop.

Thank you to Wingello for the community watch.

Why be anywhere else?

Australia Day 2011

A good crowd of locals turned out for a very relaxed Australia Day in the park.

By 4:00pm the worst of the heat was over and it was very comfortable underneath the tall pine trees. By the time we had finished our barbeque, the wind turned around 180° and a cool wind from the coast came in. Quickly the fog followed dropping the temperature in half.

A classic Wingello day!

Now Open Sundays until 2:30pm

We have been running the Wingello Village Store for two years now - doesn't time fly!

On Sundays for the last 12 months we reduced the time we were open to only a few hours in the morning. This worked out very well allowing the locals to get their newspapers, bread and milk and for the early risers breakfast and other food.

The popularity of the Un Named Cafe has meant we now need to be open longer to meet demand.

So from February onwards we will be open on Saturdays and Sundays until 2:30pm.

Public Holidays will remain open until only 10:30am.

If this is what you want, show us your support.

The Un Named Cafe

This Month's Friday Night Specials:

- 4 Feb: Roast Beef & Cobbler
- 11 Feb: Roast Pork & Chocolate Brownies
- 18 Feb: Marinated Chicken Thighs & Pumpkin Pie
- 25 Feb: Roast Lamb & Pineapple Fritters

Flags flying on Australia Day

The Little Girl and the Diamond Tree

A play by Josie Henwood (7) - performed at the Wingello Public School 2010 concert

Narrator: A little girl was walking in the bush when something fell on her head. [Diamond falls on her head]

Girl: What was that? [Girl picks up the diamond]

Girl: Oh. It's a purple diamond.

Narrator: All of a sudden a chime sounds and the little girl is turned into a dog. [A chime sounds. Dog appears]

Girl: Oh no! I've turned into a dog! [Dog goes around barking]

Narrator: The chime sounded again. [Chime sounds again]

Narrator: The girl turned into a cheetah.

Girl: Oh no! Now I'm a cheetah! [Cheetah runs around and roars several times]

Narrator: The chime sounded again. [Chime sounds again]

Narrator: The girl turned into a snake.

Girl: Oh No! Now I'm a snake!

Snake: SSSSSSSSSSS. I'm a snake.

Narrator: Once again the chime sounded. And the girl turned into a frog. She jumped and jumped the whole day long.

Girl: Ribbit. Ribbit. la la la la.

Narrator: The little frog was jumping along when she came to a big castle.

SCENE CHANGE - CASTLE

Girl: What a huge castle.

Narrator: She hopped up to the door and knocked. But it was locked.

SCENE CHANGE: CASTLE WINDOW

Girl: Oh, the door is locked. I will jump through the window. [Frog goes through the window]

Narrator: And that is what she did. She jumped through the window. She saw an angry queen. She was yelling at four frogs.

Queen: DID YOU EAT MY CAKE?!

Narrator: She yelled at the first frog.

Frog 1: No your majesty.

Queen: DID YOU EAT MY CAKE?!

Narrator: She yelled at the second frog.

Frog 2: No your majesty.

Queen: DID YOU EAT MY CAKE?!

Narrator: She yelled at the third frog.

Frog 3: No your majesty.

Queen: DID YOU EAT MY CAKE?!

Narrator: She yelled at the fourth frog.

Frog 4: Nnnnnno your majesty.

Narrator: The fourth frog was shaking.

Queen: You DID! Guards! Take him away! [Guards take the frog away]

Narrator: The little girl was so scared that she turned back into a dog. [Dog barks and runs around]

SCENE CHANGE - WINDOW

Narrator: The queen though the little dog was cute and started to chase after her.

Queen: Oh, isn't she cute? I want to keep her.

Narrator: The little dog didn't wait for a moment. She jumped out of the window and ran away. When she came back to the diamond tree another diamond hit her on the head and she turned into a little girl again.

And she never went into the bush again.

Latest DVDs

Each week we bring in some of the latest DVD releases. Wingello has the largest DVD collection between Moss Vale and Goulburn. Since 1 January we have the following new additions:

- Ⓜ Never Ending Story
- Ⓜ War of the Worlds II
- Ⓜ One Angry Shot
- Ⓜ Dinosaur Hunter
- Ⓜ The Runaways
- Ⓜ Elizabeth
- Ⓜ Despicable Me
- Ⓜ Cats & Dogs II
- Ⓜ The Last Airbender
- Ⓜ The Sorcerer's Apprentice
- Ⓜ The Girl who played with fire
- Ⓜ The Other Guys
- Ⓜ Vampires Suck
- Ⓜ Furry Vengeance
- Ⓜ Charlie St Cloud
- Ⓜ The Joneses

